More About Me

I am the eldest of three siblings. Being independent is important to me. Being able to do everything yourself is a joy. Independently made me relize that happiness is determined by myself, not others. Feeling lonely? oh of course yes, but the truth is we have to be able to stand on our own feet. The most important thing now is do your best let god to the rest.

On the right of beside you, there's a song that I like, enjoy your surfing in this web while listening to the song
